Farm Equipment Safety

APRIL 27 • 6PM - 8PM EASTERN TIME

Agriculture safety should be a main concern to all who work or live on a farm, and everyone on the farm should understand the risks involved and follow proper safety procedures. Sometimes farmers and farm workers sustain injuries or experience a disability that impedes their capability to work, and these injuries not only impact the farmers, but also their families and even their community. The farm equipment safety workshop will increase the participants' knowledge of their responsibility to operate equipment in a safe manner.
